QUARTERLY EXPLORER TAPE

Entities, Energy Streams, and Information Sources

This quarter's Explorer tape represents something special. Not only will TMI members be getting an audio reproduction of portions of an Explorer session, but the public at large will have an opportunity to see the same information in the Winter 86-87 issue of "Metapsychology: The Journal of Discarnate Intelligence".

Through Explorer HBW, the nature of channels and channeled information is discussed. The title of both the audio tape and the "Metapsychology" article is "Entities, Energy Streams, and Information Sources".

The Monroe Institute® (TMI) offers the Explorer tapes for the purpose of disseminating information received by the Explorers. The information contained in the tapes does not necessarily reflect the views of the Institute. Our intent is to provide the listener with thought-provoking material from our research laboratory.
